Presentation of the Trophy to the Victorious Team.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—There never was witnessed in New York a more enthusiastic gathering than assembled in Gilmore's Garden to-night on the occasion of the presentation of the Riflemen's trophy to the victorious American team. Nearly 800 people were in attendance, and heartily cheered the various teams as they entered the building. Gilmore arranged the musical programme, each piece having some reference to the match, opening with Handel's "March of Victory." Arbuckle played "Within a Mile of Edinboro Town" for the Scotch. Levy gave "The Lakes of Killarney" for the Irish. Madame Pappenheim sang the "Star Spangled Banner" for the Americans; while the Apollo Club rendered the Canadian song of "Row, Brothers, Row" for the Canadians. The song, "Am I Forgiven Still?" the poetry and music of which were composed by Capt. A. Blannon, of the Australian rifle team, was sung by E. A. Stoddard, in compliment to the composer and members of his team. "God Save the Queen" was performed in honor of the rifle teams from Her Majesty's dominions. At the conclusion of the musical exercises the trophy was moved to the front of the platform, and General Joseph D. Hawley, in an eloquent speech, which was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic cheers, presented it to the victors. A noticeable feature of the evening was the enthusiasm with which every mention of the Irish team and its success as the next to the American was received. The crowd cheered the Irish, and still more heartily for the American victory. Gen. Hawley also presented to the twenty leading marksmen the medal of the United States Centennial, and to each of the members of the American team, badges. Major Henry Fulton received the trophy in the name of the American team, and after complimentary allusions to the various teams by Judge Gildersleeve, the proceeding terminated.

The fine imposed upon the schooner had been remitted before the arrival of the Kearsarge, and the two vessels proceeded to sea on the 25th of July.

[illegible] of False Reports.

Democratic newspaper reporters here are disseminating false reports and resorting to low practices for the purpose of creating dissensions in the Republican ranks, [illegible] between Schurz and Bristow. Yesterday the New York Sun and World published an attack on Schurz which was represented as having appeared in the National Republican, the administration organ here, while as a matter of fact no such publication was ever made.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

What the Porte Insists On.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15.—The Porte insists chiefly on the necessity of the reoccupation of the principal Servian fortresses so as to prevent fresh aggression, and leaves the negotiation of a treaty on the above basis entirely in the hands of the Powers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15.—The Porte has informed the ambassadors of the powers that it is impossible to grant an armistice, but it is prepared to accept peace based on the following points: First, the reoccupation of the fortresses held by Turkey previous to 1857; second, the destruction of fortresses constructed by Servians since 1857; third, the investiture of Prince Milan; fourth, the reduction of effective Servian army to 10,000 men and three batteries; fifth, the construction of a railway across Servia; sixth, a point follows.

Germany to Remain Neutral in Event of War.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Daily Telegraph's special from Vienna asserts that Germany will not move in aid of Russia's demands upon Turkey, and in event of war will remain absolutely neutral.

Sensation in Paris.

The Telegraph's correspondent at Paris reports that a sensation was caused in that city by the publication last evening in the Journal La France of the text of an alleged treaty signed by Bismarck and Gortschakoff, purporting to have been made last June, and providing for the settlement of the Eastern question in case of war. The whole thing is absurd and caused much excitement, and obtained credence in certain circles.

Mr. Gladstone Finding Fault with Lord Derby.

The Times publishes a letter from Gladstone dealing with the recent speeches of Lord Derby on the Eastern question. Gladstone finds fault with the government for merely protesting and remonstrating, and concludes with the declaration that the time has come to say "you must let Europe define what is just, and then enact it." Mr. Gladstone expresses the belief that circumstances now demand the entire assembling of parliament.

Servian War News.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Standard's dispatch from Belgrade say the Turks made an attack on Tuesday on Mali Lewarnk to prevent the Servians from sending reinforcements to General Tchernayoff; but the fighting on the Drina cannot influence the issue of the war at Alexinatz.

A correspondent with the Turks says that their plan of operations is to cross the Morava, storm the Servian position at Deligrade, occupy it and then return to take Alexinatz. Both positions are strong and the task will be one of enormous difficulty. The first attempt to carry out the plan by bridging the Morava on Monday was unsuccessful.

BELGRADE, Sept. 15.—A telegram to the Daily News says rain has been falling in torrents for the last two days and the Morava valley is now a great swamp. By systematically burning the villages the Turks have destroyed what would have been their shelter and they are now exposed without cover to the storm. Important military operations are impossible and a week of rain will render the valley untenable. The Servians have supplies for a year's campaign at Deligrade and Alexinatz. The Turks are obliged to haul everything from Siech, and their withdrawal to that point is expected.

Servian Reverses—Forced Currency.

BELGRADE, Sept. 15.—A report is current here that Turks have captured two or three Servian redoubts at Little Swarruck. The government will shortly issue notes ranging from one to 100 francs having forced currency.

Assassination of a French Girl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Jennie Bonnet, a French girl, was assassinated about 9 o'clock last night at the San Miguel saloon near the station of the same name, on the San Jose railroad. Deceased came to the saloon, which is kept as a kind of wayside inn, on Tuesday evening in company with another French woman in a hired buggy. On Wednesday a boy employed at the stable in the city where the vehicle was obtained, came to the station and took the buggy back to town, Jennie refusing to pay for the use of it. Later in the same day the stable keeper himself went to San Miguel, and told Jennie if she did not pay him $10 he would put a bullet through her; but he left without his money. Last night Jennie had just gone to bed in a room on the first floor, and her companion was preparing to retire when a shot was fired through the window, striking Jennie in the breast, producing instant death. During the confusion which ensued, the assassin escaped unnoticed. Officers have been sent out to work up the case. Deceased was a well known character about town, having for many years been in the habit of wearing male apparel, for which she was frequently arrested. She always alleged she did so for its greater convenience in pursuit of her occupation, which was catching frogs for use in the city restaurants. She was about 20 years of age. The name of the stable keeper, from whom the team was hired, has not yet been obtained.

Further particulars concerning the murder of Jennie Bonnet, render the theory possible that the fatal shot may have been intended for her companion, Blanche Beunon, who was in the room with her. The latter had recently been living with a Frenchman, named Deneve, but they quarreled and separated a short time ago, Deneve going to France. A man named Earnest Gerald was the particular friend of Deneve, and it seems he was under the impression that Jennie caused the separation between his friend and Blanche. According to Blanche's statement, Gerard made threats that he would kill Jennie and herself. She says she knows of no other enemy of Jennie, and her opinion that Gerard had a hand in the tragedy is strengthened by the fact that he took every occasion to insult her. It is not certain but that the shot was intended for Blanche, or for both her and Jennie. The weapon appears to have been a shotgun loaded with buckshot. No arrests yet made.

The Frenchman, Gerard, heretofore mentioned in connection with the assassination of Jennie Bonnet, was arrested this evening on suspicion of being concerned in the murder. He stoutly avers his innocence. There appears ground for the belief that if he did not commit the deed, he knows who did. He is known to have repeatedly threatened her life, and he is thought to be the same person who shot her some months ago, when she refused to disclose the name of her assailant.

Seventh Assessment of California Bank Stock.

At a meeting of the directors of the Bank of California this morning, an assessment of $10 per share was levied, delinquent October 10th. This makes the seventh assessment, all of said amount. It is probable another assessment of $500,000 may follow the one just levied, but that will doubtless be the last. The three certificates advertised to be sold to day as delinquent on the sixth assessment were paid before the hour of sale.

Man Run Over by the Cars and Killed.

The 7 o'clock train from San Jose ran over a man near San Bruno road crossing, almost severing both legs from the body. He was brought into town on the train, but no hopes are entertained of his recovery. His name and antecedents are unknown. He is believed to have been a tramp, who in attempting to steal a free ride on the car truck, fell under the wheels.

Precautions against Smallpox.

The board of health held a special meeting to-day and passed resolutions looking toward the examination of all buildings and localities suspected of harboring smallpox or other diseases, and providing for a thorough disinfection of such places when necessary, in which the officers of the board will be assisted by the police force, if required. The resolution is directed more especially against the Chinese quarters, where it is supposed many cases of smallpox are concealed.

Mortally Wounded.

YREKA, Sept. 15.—On Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock, B. A. Godfrey was stabbed and mortally wounded at Fort Jones by a young man named Sherwood. Sherwood was dancing on the sidewalk, when Godfrey's boy made fun of his dancing, for which Sherwood pulled the boy's ears. Godfrey hearing the boy cry, and his statement made, knocked Sherwood down, and then went into Diggles' store. Sherwood soon after went to Diggles' store and wanted Godfrey to come out and hear the statement of persons who witnessed the affair; that he did not try to hurt the boy. Godfrey refused, and told Sherwood to go away; but Sherwood further insisting, Godfrey answered that he (Sherwood) acknowledged pulling the boy up by the ears, when Sherwood called him a liar, whereat Godfrey again knocked him down, and as they scuffled over some sacks of flour, Sherwood cut Godfrey in the back, abdomen and hip very seriously with a bowie-knife. Sherwood will be examined to-morrow, and it is expected Godfrey will die.

Surveyors Gone to Work on the Texas Pacific Railroad.

Messrs. Ruble & Jackson start for San Diego county next week to take charge of the survey of the direct route of the Texas Pacific railway.

Perished in the Desert.

Mr. C. Hirsch, who has just arrived from Arizona, reports that a young man named Henry Smith, from St. Louis, Mo., who left Yuma Sept 3d with pack animals for Lost Angeles, perished on the desert near Indian Wells, just below the boundary lines of the State in Lower California, on the 9th. He, with a companion, had been wandering around nearly 90 hours without water, and before he died, opened a vein in his arm and drank his own blood, which clotted in his throat. To relieve this, he made incisions in the windpipe and pulled out the clots with his fingers. Six hours after he drank his blood, he died. His companion made his way to a station in the last stage of exhaustion, and told the horrible tale. Smith requested that information of his death should be communicated to his sister, Miss Sarah Smith, who lives on Carondelet avenue.

Henry Kelly, aged 18, while working on Mrs. Cahoon's farm, four miles west of Salem, had his foot badly injured in a thresher a few days ago.

Chambers moved to strike out $250 and insert $500. Bill and amendment referred to a committee of three, consisting of Fenton, Lawrence and Goodsell.

Notices of bills were given as follows:

By Fidler—To locate the county seat of Josephine county at Kerbyville or Wilderville.

By Chambers—To amend the school law relating to text books.

By Goodsell, to amend section 16, chapter 57, of the code of civil procedure; also to amend the law relating to election precincts; also to amend the law relating to liens on boats; also, appropriating $4,000 per annum for two years to promote immigration.

The House concurred in S. J. R. 5, and the chair appointed Chambers, Ferguson and Cochran as a committee under the resolution.

The House adjourned till 2 P. M. Monday next.

Particulars of the Train Robbery Reported Last Night.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 15.—The car used by the express company is in two compartments, one occupied by W. F. & Co., and the other for U. S. mails. On the down trip last evening Williams, express messenger, neglected to lock the outside door of the express car. He attributes his neglect to thoughtlessness, never having had occasion to apprehend danger from robbers on this line, which passes through a thickly settled country, and trains made to run almost wholly in the daylight. It is before 8 o'clock in the evening when the train leaves Woods' Cross, the last station before entering Salt Lake, and between that station and this city there are only eight miles of run to make. When the train arrived at Salt Lake depot and stopped at 8:20, Mr. Williams did not make his appearance at the car door as usual to hand the express matter into the wagon which conveys it to the office. An employe of W. F. & Co., who meets the train at the depot with the express wagon, immediately entered the car, and there found Williams firmly tied to the side of the car and gagged, being unable to speak or release himself. He had the appearance of having struggled severely, and had succeeded in extricating his right hand from its fastenings. He was tied erect against the side of the apartment with strips of canvas, some of which were also firmly bound over his mouth in such a manner as to prevent the possibility of uttering audible sound. He was speedily released, and tells the following story: As the train was leaving Woods' Cross, two masked men noiselessly entered the express car, and presenting pistols at the head of Williams, told him to throw up his hands and keep quiet without demonstrative resistance. He yielded to their persuasions, and they speedily bound and gagged him. The robbers then took his keys and unlocked the treasure box and extracted the money, amounting to $15,200 currency. All this was done within the space of ten minutes, while the train was running between three and four miles, from Woods' Cross to Hot Spring. As the train was passing the latter point, the robbers sprang off, and Williams commenced to exert himself for relief. When the train reached the depot, ten minutes afterwards, he had succeeded in releasing only one hand. There were large numbers of passengers on the train, none of whom saw the robbers or noted any suspicious circumstances. But what is more remarkable is the fact that the mail agent, Mr. Poland, with two or three other gentlemen, were in the postal compartment of the car, which is separated from the express section only by a wooden partition, while the robbery was being committed. Of the money taken, $10,000 belonged to McCormick & Co., bankers; $5,000 to the Deseret National Bank, and the remainder, about $200, was in small packages for different parties. Williams does not know either of the robbers, and can give no description of them. The police were exerting themselves during the night to gain some clue to the perpetrators, but without success.

THE TERRITORIES.

The new steamer Messenger was launched at Tumwater on the 13th.

The Republican Territorial Convention will meet in Kalama next Wednesday.

The assessment of Kitsap county, W. T., shows a gain over last year of $150,000.

The $40,000 suit against the P. M. S. S. Co., by Mrs. Phelps, will be tried at Port Townsend during the present term of court.

According to the Snohomish Star, Messrs. O'Laughlin & Wilka, of the Swinimish, on 165 acres of the land of Mr. J. S. Conner, have raised this year 4,000 bushels of barley and 8,000 bushels of oats.

At the sixth annual session of the Baptist Association of Puget Sound and British Columbia, Hon. R. S. Greene was chosen moderator for the ensuing year, and Rev. J. A. Wirth clerk. The next session of the association will meet in Victoria, B. C.

Says the Olympian: One case of smallpox has proved fatal on the Boisfort, Lewis county, in a family that came up on the John L. Stephens. The wife was shortly after taken sick with the disease and has since died. The husband is now lying quite ill. The children were taken away to some of the neighbors.

Says the Olympian: There are eight churches connected with the Baptist Association of this district, with a membership of about 200, of whom 35 were received into fellowship during the past year. Of this number, about one-half belong to the two churches in King county. The Victoria church has 16 members and the Olympia church 18. The Olympia and Seattle churches are the only two belonging to the association that are self-sustaining.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

EXPUNGING RESOLUTIONS—INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES AND CAUCUS MATTERS GENERALLY.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Sept. 15, 1876.

Promptly after our letter, yesterday, was mailed, the Speaker of the House announced the standing committees of that branch, and things began to move along in better shape, though no bills have yet been reached, and we may not look for the performance of much legislation until late next week. What the important measure first to come up after the election of Senator is not indicated by anything yet occurring. A joke which the Chief Clerk of the Senate got off the other day may have contained a good deal of prophetic truth on this point, however, and we will relate it. A busy sort of a body from Portland brushed into the sitting room at the hotel, and being introduced to Mr. Simpson, inquired of the latter: "Mr. Simpson, what do you think will be the most important bill before the Legislature?" S. replied very promptly, "Bill Watkinds." And this

IMPORTANT "BILL"

Was taken up yesterday morning and handled in a way that was perhaps quite right, but which he is said to have characterized as a piece of great injustice to him. We refer to the Cheesman resolution to expunge from Watkinds' report as superintendent of the Penitentiary, certain paragraphs in which he took occasion to ventilate his personal malice against two men connected with the committee which investigated him last session, in language that, when it was called to their attention, every member of the House save two was forced to admit was unbecoming, undignified and disgraceful in an official report. It is reported that William dislikes this summary manner of dealing with the production of his gigantic intellect, and, though he will woo the members as gently as a sucking dove until the Senator is chosen, he proposes to pour upon them the "fulminations of his wrath" after that. Mr. Cheesman, who introduced the resolution, is a new member in the Oregon Legislature and in Oregon politics, though he has evidently had experience in similar matters elsewhere. He appears to be a man of broader views than the average politician of the Democratic school, and with the honesty of purpose, pleasing manners and address and his readiness in debate, his words carry a good deal of weight. His remarks on the resolution were very forcible and carried conviction to all who heard them. There is a

PERFECT WINDFALL

Of investigating committees being appointed by the two houses and every institution with which the State is mediately or immediately, directly or indirectly connected, will be waited upon by committeemen and investigated. The result of these investigations nobody can tell at present, but as the Senatorial squabble will be settled before [illegible], and a state of harmony be prevalent in the Democratic camp, it may turn out that the investigations in many instances will result in considerable expense to the State and very little actual benefit. Speaking of the

SENATORIAL SQUABBLE

Reminds us that the "wheel within a wheel" has begun to revolve; the caucus is organized and the work is being narrowed down to an actual count of noses. Rumor, and pretty well founded, has it that after the organization of the thing yesterday afternoon, with fifty members present, Fidler, of Josephine, and Crain, of Jackson, refusing to go in, three ballots were taken and developed the fact that Grover and Nesmith have nearly equal support while Slater starts in with only two or three votes less than either. So you see it is a very even triangular fight so far, and a good many of the friends of the candidates who have not been named in the caucus [illegible] that as "dead the [illegible] something [illegible] brawl" the

SPEAR UNKNOWN

Will yet put in an appearance and walk off with the honor. Who he is, or what's his name, are matters not clearly pointed out by anything that has yet transpired. He may be Chadwick, Bonham, Prim, Kelly, or some other of the stars that have just appeared on the verge of the senatorial horizon. The button-holing being done by the friends of those who were supported in the Democratic caucus, is characterized as universal, pertinacious, impertinent and constant. If, as is asserted on good authority, the last ballot in caucus resulted in 18 for Grover, 16 for Nesmith, 14 for Slater and 2 for Whiteaker, you can see how liable to prove false would any prediction be that should be based on that vote. Some Democrats claim that the 50 members who went into the caucus are unanimous and will support its nominee, but it appears to us that this calculation is not certain and we shall not be at all surprised if Fidlers and Crains should be much more numerous in this body than the average Senator-maker supposes. Though there's Wisdom in the Senate and Love in the House, there is no harmony in the camp and more trouble than they expect may befall our Democratic brethren before the session terminates, for though the sailing so far has been smooth, speaking after the manner of the illustrious Mullin, "I smell a rat." Methinks I see it floating in the air, and there may be a good many chances for the Republicans, aided by recalcitrant Democrats, to "nip it in the bud." So mote it be.

THE THIRD HOUSE

Is increasing in numbers, and we might add, in the language of the Speaker of that body, General M. V. Brown, "in influence, impecuniosity and cheek." The Governor elected by the Third House, Judge Walton, of Lake La Bish, delivered his inaugural last night. It was rich, and as 120 copies have been ordered printed, you may receive a few for gratuitous distribution among the hoodlums of Portland. The only bill in this house yet is an act to educate hoodlums, tax dogs and regulate hash houses. A joint resolution providing for a committee to investigate the conduct of the State Printer while on his recent visit to the Centennial and the St. Louis convention, was promptly ruled out by the Speaker, who insisted that no appeal could lie from his decision. There are signs of fun in this branch.

A STILL LATER BALLOT

In the caucus is reported to have been taken, in which the result was—Grover 19, Nesmith 16, Slater 15, Whiteaker 1. So there must have been three members out. Mitchell, of Umatilla, is sick with the mumps, and is only brought out on urgent occasions.

Very naturally the laborers on the rice plantation of Mr. J. B. Bissell, on the Combahee, in South Carolina, prefer not to receive their wages in such currency as this:

50 Due Fifty Cents 50
To John Jones or Bearer, for labor under special contract. Payable on the first of January, 1880.

It appears from a statement published by Mr. Robert Smalls that Mr. Bissell is in the habit of paying his laborers in these valuable documents, which are issued in denominations of 5, 10, 25, and 50 cents. Whatever was mysterious in the Combahee strike is so no longer. A note of hand for 50 cents, payable in four years from date without interest and good for nothing except to spend at the shop of the employer who issues it, isn't the sort of money to make a laborer contented, quiet and industrious. Mr. Smalls says that the laborers demanded money for their labor, and declined Mr. Bissell's small notes of hand. Failing to get genuine cash, they struck. Mr. B. may be thankful that they did not strike him. It appears, however, that the disaffected did employ some intimidation to prevent those who were anxious to work for Mr. Bissell's currency from doing so. Here they were wrong. If there were those who were willing to toil for something of even less value, it was no business of the strikers. As all hands have gone to hoeing again, we venture to hope that Mr. Bissell has agreed to pay money; and if he hasn't there will probably be another strike very soon.

FARMING IN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

AMERICAN VALLEY, CLARKE CO., W. T.,
September 13, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In a recent visit to "American or Gr[illegible] Valley," adjoining and east of Mill Plain, in Clarke county, W. T., I was gratified to see the thrift of the farmers in that section of country. They were mostly all in mid harvest, reaping and storing in their rich, waving fields of golden grain. Reapers, headers and threshers were busy plying their work. I saw fields upon fields of the most luxuriant wh[illegible] and oats waving in majestic beauty. It would seem that in this favored locality, wh[illegible] a farmer puts in a crop of grain, [illegible] or other vegetables, he is sure to be rewarded by an abundant return in harvest. They [illegible] no June freshets here to contend with [illegible] fears of ever losing a crop; and yet [illegible] ducts fully equal any of the Columbia [illegible] bottoms. Mr. H. M. Knapp, an old [illegible] of [illegible] years, has a fine new residence, and a [illegible] cultivated farm. Next comes Mr. D. Payne, with about 50 acres of wheat [illegible] corn. His crops are equally abu[illegible] neighbors', and he is as [illegible] good-natured a man as one [illegible] meet.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16, 1876.

THE ISTHMUS CANAL PROJECT.

There appears to be a sudden revival of interest in the project of connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean by a canal at the isthmus. The Nicaraguan government is more than willing to grant whatever privileges may be required by the powers undertaking the enterprise, with respect to location of the line of canal and use of materials in its construction, provided it be declared and held as neutral ground by the leading nations of the earth. A minister has been designated by that government to confer with the great commercial powers on the subject. The distance from sea to sea by the Nicaragua route is two hundred miles, but the San Juan river and Lake river and Lake Nicaragua afford good slackwater navigation for the greater part of the way. The canal would have to be about 61 miles long, including some miles of light cutting along the San Juan. Six locks of ten feet lift would be necessary on the Pacific side, besides a tide lock at the entrance to the [illegible]. On the Atlantic side the surface of the country is different, the descent be[illegible] and less rapid. It is reported [illegible] ten locks would be required on that [illegible] for the main canal, and some three or four on that part lying along the banks of the San Juan. Authoritative estimates of the cost, made by competent engineers, [illegible] it down at $68,000,000; but that [illegible] nothing but the actual work, [illegible] in for preparation, trans[illegible] of men, implements, etc. It in[illegible] expense of transporting [illegible] of the [illegible] required in the work [illegible] not be obtained at better rates in [illegible] vicinity. Allowing for all [illegible] engineering dif[illegible] it [illegible] be about a safe [illegible] to put the whole [illegible] of connect[illegible] at $100,000,000. That is [illegible] the reported cost of building [illegible] continental railway from Omaha [illegible] Francisco.

WHAT THEY MEAN TO DO.

[illegible] Forsyth, editor of the Mobile [illegible] of the ablest men of the [illegible] high standing as one of [illegible] Southern opinion. His [illegible] the [illegible] of the De[illegible] they should be successful [illegible] election may be taken [illegible] of what may be expected in [illegible]. He declares in so many words [illegible] age must be stopped. [illegible] mincing and prevarication, he [illegible] to the mark. "Sooner or [illegible] or less dispatch," says [illegible] the [the negro] will be dis[illegible] out of politics." [illegible] Forsyth has an answer [illegible] question of suffrage belongs [illegible] tively." But what [illegible] constitutional amendments [illegible] upon the right [illegible] the States? For this, too, [illegible] ready with a reply: [illegible] Democracy of 1876 [illegible] Southern States will [illegible] control of this and other [illegible]." So the consti[illegible] trampled under foot, and [illegible] the colored people along [illegible] as the "organized Democ[illegible] hold of the reins of [illegible]. But Mr. Forsyth and his [illegible] of the South are build[illegible] are destined to disappoint[illegible] people of the North, the[illegible] poured out their blood [illegible] make this Republic in fact [illegible] intended to be, a free country [illegible] natural rights of man were [illegible], will not pass the government [illegible] the declared enemies of human [illegible]

OREGON FRUITS.

[illegible] delight the eye of any son of [illegible] to look upon the luscious fruit which [illegible] bending down the trees all over [illegible], and even if he has inherited [illegible] of her fatal appetite, he [illegible] difficult to refrain from put[illegible] his hand and eating.

[illegible] scientists who are, or pretend [illegible] in all matters that existed [illegible] I declare that the first ter[illegible] of man was situated in Amer[illegible] of the Rocky Mountains, and ad[illegible] in support of their theory, many [illegible] in the shape of old bones and very [illegible] specimens. But as it is [illegible] man's first abode was one [illegible] only the good things of [illegible] to us that very convincing [illegible] the garden of Eden was locat[illegible] in this valley might be drawn from the [illegible] excellence of its apples, cher[illegible], plums and other fruits grown [illegible]. It is true that a great deal of the [illegible] soil in which grew the earliest earth's products may have been washed away in that first great freshet, which the [illegible] of the ark alone survived; but still there is some left, as is proved by our splendid annual crops.

Those who have visited the Centennial Exhibition have wondered at the fine pomological displays in the Oregon department, which far exceed anything ever before seen out of Oregon; but they would wonder still more if they could go into some of our orchards and see the splendid luxuriance of the crops. We wish some of them could go into Mr. Luelling's orchard at Milwaukie and see pear trees loaded with the finest-looking and most luscious fruit. From one of these trees we cut a branch four inches in length on which were twenty-four pears of the Bergamot variety, all well-shaped and perfect. The plum trees are also a sight worth coming a long way to see. We stood under a Golden Egg plum tree, and, looking up, it seemed that there were almost as many plums as leaves on the tree. One of the plums we measured and found it to be over nine inches in circumference one way and four and a half inches the other, and there were many more on the tree just as large. The prunes, too, were remarkably fine, and the crop was enormous.

We noticed a new variety of pear resembling the Bartlett, but richer in flavor and more juicy; also a new kind of prune, larger than the Eellenberg, shaped somewhat like a pear, and having the color of claret wine. This prune will be exhibited by Mr. Luelling, at Mr. Malarkey's to-day. It seemed to us the finest prune in the orchard. The peach season was over, or nearly so, but we were told that the healthy and vigorous peach trees shown us were twenty-five years old, and that they had never failed to produce good crops every year. In the Eastern States a peach grower estimates the productive life of his trees at ten years from the first bearing and reckons himself fortunate if in that time he gets six good crops.

The apple crop shown us was as fine as could be seen anywhere in the world, whether for the quantity or the quality of the fruit. Indeed, a prudent man would hesitate to speak as fairly of it as it deserves, lest he should be discredited. In fact, it is hard to believe that better crops are grown anywhere than here. We have mentioned Mr. Luelling's orchard simply because we have visited it and seen for ourselves. There are, doubtless, many others just as good. Mr. Lambert's, near Mr. Luelling's, gave fine promise a month or two ago and there are others in the valley from which good reports have come.

We wish every farmer in Oregon would give attention to the culture of fruit. It is a most valuable addition to the dietary of the family and is a saleable commodity. It is true, that it is hard for some farmers to sell their fruit in a green state; but it can be dried, and for it in that shape, he will have the whole world for a market.

Mr. Chambers, in the House, moved to insert in the bill to aid in sending Oregon fruit to the Centennial $500 instead of $250, as reported by the special committee. The amount moved by Mr. Chambers is the same as appropriated in the bill originally introduced. The matter has again gone to a special committee, who, it is to be hoped, will report favorably on Mr. Chambers' amendment, or else in[illegible] a still greater sum. So far as we have [illegible] expressions of opinion it is unanimously in favor of the legislature's granting a sufficient sum to insure a good exhibit of our fruits. If a car load of Oregon fruits, as fresh from the orchard as they could be laid down, were placed before the great crowd at Philadelphia, it would open their eyes as wide as they were opened on beholding our grain exhibit. By all means let our State be fairly represented. It is a matter by which the entire State will be benefited, and the State should give material help. The opportunity will not be presented again for one hundred years.

The official returns of the special election in Columbia, Clatsop and Tillamook counties for joint Senator have not yet been received, owing to the remoteness of the different parts of the district. We are in receipt, however, of the following partial returns:

Columbia county: St. Helens precinct gives Hodgkins (Dem.) 17 majority; Oak Point, 12; Woods, 7; Island, 1; Deer Island, 10. Rainier precinct gives Warren (Rep.) 2 majority. This gives Hodgkins a net majority in the county of 45.

Clatsop county: Warren has a majority of 15.

Tillamook county: Warren's reported majority 30.

On this showing the election has resulted in a tie. It is claimed, however, that the report from Tillamook county is incorrect, and that Warren has 44 majority there instead of 30. That would give him a majority of 14 votes in the district.

A friend in Yamhill county writes us that just about all the people of that region are contemplating a week's holiday at the State Fair. There will be more people there this year than ever before; and the preparations making by the directors for rendering the occasion pleasant and profitable are in proportion to the vast crowd expected.

Mr. Tilden is a successful manager of conventions. He nominated himself for President. Then he nominated ex-Governor Seymour for Governor, and, that gentleman declining, he nominated Mr. Robinson in his place. None of his nominations will be ratified by the people.

RUPTURE!

No More Metallic Trusses Used!

No More Suffering from Iron Hoops or Steel Springs!

THE SUPERIORITY OF OUR ELASTIC Trusses over the rigid Iron Hoops, which in former days were the only resource of the ruptured, admits of NO ARGUMENT.

By means of this appliance the pressure on the Rupture itself can be made uniform and continuous, and to the extent required in each case, until a slight inflammation of the parts is secured, and the consequent effusion of lymph which is essential to a healing process, and from this time to the conclusion of the treatment, the pressure being entirely within the control of the patient, can be lessened daily as the adhesion progresses and the body becomes sound. All cases of reducible Hernia are permanently relieved without regard to the age of the patient or the duration of the injury, while in its action it is wholly free from all the cruelty that has characterized the treatment of the malady with torturous Metal Trusses from the earliest age to the present day. Your attention is called to the following facts:

1st—There are no springs to press upon or to injure the back.

2d—It is simple in construction, and not liable to get out of order.

3d—This instrument is worn with perfect ease while riding horseback.

4th—The Rupture is retained and the pressure the same while in any position.

5th—It has none of the injurious results of metallic Trusses.

6th—It will perform radical cures when all others fail.

7th—It is worn with ease and comfort night and day, which cannot be said truthfully of an metal Truss whatever.

Experience shows that all tempered spring Trusses necessarily press upon and often disease parts of the body that before were in a perfectly healthy condition. Lumbago and other equally distressing ailments are not unfrequently the outgrowth of such pressure, and in view of this fact it becomes a matter of decided consequence to avoid like calamities, if possible.

Examination Free. The closest scrutiny of physicians solicited.

Beware of Bogus articles called Elastic Trusses. Dr. ROWE, Inventor and Patentee of Elastic Trusses. All parties infringing either by sale or manufacture, will be dealt with in such manner as the law provides.

HAYES AND WHEELER CLUB.—This evening a meeting of the Hayes and Wheeler Club will be held at Oro Fino Theater. Several speakers will be present and address the meeting. During the campaign the following speakers have been engaged to address the club at the Republican headquarters in this city: Judge O. Jacobs, Dr. J. W. Watts, W. Lair Hill, Jos. N. Dolph, H. W. Scott, John F. Caples, R. Mallory, M. C. George and O. P. Mason. The large and attractive banner which has been stretched across the street in front of the headquarters, was taken down last week, enlarged and some sentences, copied from Gov. Haye's letter of acceptance, have been inserted on it. Yesterday the banner was hoisted to its accustomed position.

AN OLD ENGINEER DEAD.—Mr. S. F. Lewis, who was chief engineer on the O. S. S. Co.'s steamships between Portland and San Francisco for some years, died at the latter place a few weeks ago, at the age of 54. His disease was dropsy. Mr. Lewis was the builder and at one time owner of the ill-fated steamer Geo. S. Wright. Deceased was one of the oldest and most experienced engineers on the Pacific coast. One by one the old pioneers are silently passing to the land of shadows.

FREIGHT LIST.—The following is the list of exports per steamer John L. Stephens, which sailed for San Francisco last evening at 6 o'clock: 629 hf and 2390 qr sks flour, 1,231 dry and 235 green hides, 3 bdls skins, 1 bale furs, 802 bales wool, 172 bxs eggs, 30 bales tow, 30 bxs pears, 206 bxs prunes, 11 casks ale, 24 kits salmon bellies, 4 firkins butter, 32 empty bbls and 46 pkgs assorted merchandise. In addition she will take on the river 3,000 cases salmon.

THE NEW STEAMBOAT.—The P. P. T. Co. have let the contract for the boiler and machinery, complete, for their new steamboat, for the sum of $8,000, to be completed in sixty days, to the Oregon Iron Works, and have made the first payment ($1,000) on the same, and have made a payment of $1,200 on the hull, which is progressing rapidly at Canemah. Part of the deck is laid, and we expect soon to hear that she is ready to launch.

LOW WATER.—Owing to the extreme low water on the Upper Willamette the W. T. & L. Co. advertise that hereafter and until the river rises their steamers will not attempt going higher up than Salem. For the past two weeks the Bonanza has been the only boat navigating that portion of the river between Salem and Corvallis, and after repeated disasters she, too, has been compelled to haul off.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, Sept. 15, 1876:

E. F. ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the trustees of the Exempt Firemen's Association will be held this (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock, sharp, at the police court room. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance will be brought before the meeting.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION.—"Is the human will free?" is the topic for discussion before the Liberal Association to-morrow at the regular 2 o'clock meeting. In the evening, Dr. P. Hackey lectures. Subject: "Materials and Forces of the Universe."

INSANE.—The wife of Mr. John Goven, of Moore's valley, Yamhill county, was taken insane about a week ago. Application was made to the county judge for the proper order, and the unfortunate woman was committed to the asylum Thursday.

EXPRESS LETTER LIST. The following letters remain uncalled for at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s: Mrs. Rebecca Church, William Grant, Joseph Green, H. Kutmow, L. Kutmow, Mrs. F. Long, David Morgan Jr., N. W. Piper, Geo. Titus, 2.

DIED.—The Jacksonville Times says: Montgomery Queen's large lion, which was sick while here, died last Saturday. This was one of his finest animals and his death is a heavy loss to the owner.

MILITARY NOTES.

Under date of the 14th inst., the following orders have been issued:

Major Charles W. Wingard, paymaster, will pay the troops, to include the muster of August 31, 1876, at Camp Harney and Fort Boise.

Upon the recommendation of his company and post commander, the charge now pending against private Thomas Clegg, Co. F, 21st infantry,—conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline,—is withdrawn, and he will be released from confinement and restored to duty.

The subsistence department is authorized to purchase, in open market at lowest obtainable rates, 2,000 fire bricks, two barrels lime and two barrels cement, to be used in constructing an oven in the bake house at the post of Sitka, Alaska; and to employ a mason for 10 days at $2 coin per day.

OREGON FRUIT AGAIN.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31, 1876.

G. W. Walling, Esq.—Dear Sir: Permit me to acknowledge the receipt of peach plums and red June apples from your farm. Thanks for the contribution.

The committee claimed the right to alter or change names, and changed the name of your plums to the G. W. Walling. These plums were so far superior in size and quality to those of similar varieties from other States that the committee pronounced them another variety.

Fruit packed in dry moss comes in better condition than any other way. Yours respectfully,

A. J. DUFUR,
Commissioner for Oregon.

THE COURTS.

POLICE COURT—ADAMS, J.

FRIDAY, Sept. 15, 1876.

LOOK AT THIS.

MRS. S. LORD will start a new crop of hair in any stage of baldness, and on a polished scalp, in from two to three months, if treated by herself, warranted permanent. No mushroom growth, money to be placed on deposit. No hair hair, no pay. Falling of the hair, dandruff and itching checked readily. Room 21 Monnastes' Building, First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.

A TESTIMONIAL.

MRS. S. LORD—Dear Madam: I commenced using your Hair Producer about five months ago, my hair being thin and falling out rapidly, accompanied with an intense itching of scalp. Shortly after I commenced using your preparations, the itching ceased entirely, and the hair stopped coming out, and having used the remedy according to directions, my hair is growing thick and strong, with every prospect of being fully restored. Yours truly,

JAMES LADD, Mount Coffin, W. T.

Mr. Beck, of Beck & Waldman, returned on the steamer, and the new goods are distributed in the proper places. The selections are really very fine, and must be seen to be appreciated. All are advised to call and examine the new stock.

ANTIDOTE FOR POISONS.—If a person swallows any poison whatever, or has fallen into convulsion from having overloaded the stomach, an instantaneous and very efficient remedy is a heaping teaspoonful of common salt, and as much ground mustard, stirred rapidly in a teacup of water, warm or cold, and swallowed instantly. It is scarcely down before it begins to come up, bringing with it the remaining contents of the stomach; and lest there be any remnant of a poison, however small, let the white of an egg and sweet oil, or butter or lard several spoonsful—be swallowed immediately after vomiting; because these very common articles nullify a larger number of virulent poisons than any medicines in the shop.

"Jake Work," a few days since, shot Edward Abbey, of Yaquina bay, with a target gun. The charge took effect in the right breast. A physician was called, probed the wound, but failed to find the ball, which struck a rib and ranged downward. It was a case of gross carelessness.

The amount of wheat ground at the Ashland mills during the year ending July 1st, 1876, was 25,000 bushels. Number of hogs fattened: 540; number of hogs butchered, 340; average when dressed, 180 lbs; average amount of lard to the hog, 24 lbs. Amount of wheat bought from July 1st to September 9th, 1876, 10,240 bushels. The mills are now manufacturing flour at the rate of 10,000 lbs per day, of 14 hours.

ONE-SIDED DEVELOPMENT.—The habit of using the right hand in preference to the left among those people whose monuments date from the remotest antiquity appears to be a universal fact, and this is accounted for by the anatomical mechanism of the human body. It is known that the right lung, liver-lobe and limbs exceed in size those of the left side, involving of course, a greater amount of tissue structure and a larger supply of nerves and blood vessels for their nutrition. A person walking in a dense fog figures with his feet the segment of a circle, and, if he is right-handed, he takes a direction to the left, because the right leg naturally takes a longer stride. The left side of the brain is larger than the right, and, as it appears that the power of verbal articulation in the right-handed is confined to a certain convolution on the left side, the conclusion is arrived at that, in speaking and thinking, the left side of the brain is used, this being the result of dextral education. The opinion has also been expressed by some medical writers that amnesia and asphasia in right-handed men indicate disease of the left brain, and that hammer-palsy and writer's cramp show the results of excessive working of the left brain.

Mr. Gale, has sold his claim, on the upper Puyallup, to Judge Rice of the N. P. R. R. Co. and others, for $7,000.

The Misdirection of the Bile.

The misdirection of the bile, a consequence which ensues when the liver is inactive and the bowels torpid, produces a number of bodily evils. The blood becomes contaminated with the bilious fluid, causing the skin and the whites of the eyes to assume a yellowish tinge; dyspepsia and nausea supervene, the tongue becomes furred, the breath fetid, there are pains in the side and between the shoulder blades, the urine is high colored and scalding, and in aggravated cases jaundice and inflammation of the liver ensue. All these consequences may be prevented or obviated by using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a vegetable alterative tonic which stimulates the inactive liver to exert itself in secreting and directing the bile, acts naturally upon the bowels and removes every trace of indigestion.

WHY RUN ANY RISK WITH YOUR COUGH, COLD, HOARSENESS, or indeed any Pulmonary or Bronchial Complaint, when a remedy, safe, thorough, and so easily obtainable as Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant can be had? If you have contracted a severe Cold, save your Lungs from the dangerous irritation and inflammation, which frequently brings about Consumption, by promptly resorting to the Expectorant; and if troubled with any Affection of the Throat, you will find this remedy equally effectual in affording relief from obstructing phlegm, and in healing the inflamed parts.

DR. WARNER'S SANITARY CORSET.

TESTIMONIAL.

VICTORIA, B. C., August 10, 1876.

MRS. M. A. WARNER—Dear Madam: Six months ago I received from you one of Dr. Warner's Health Corsets. The benefit from its use is wonderful. For six years I suffered—pronounced consumption—with severe pains of the stomach, chest, lungs and back, loss of appetite, and headache, during the time I wore the old-style corset—long, stiff bones, laced tight. Ignorance of course. A few days after I wore Dr. Warner's Health Corset I felt better; continued to improve, and now am free from pain, have good appetite, breathe free, and feel as when I was a girl. What a blessing to the human race are those corsets! Enclosed is $2 50, currency. Send No. 22 White London Cord by mail. Respectfully,

MRS. JENNIE HASTINGS.

Gentlemen—I have just returned from a trip through Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia, undertaken for the purpose of examining the various distilleries in those districts, and I am now more than ever confirmed in the opinion, so often expressed to you, that your distillery is the most complete, and best conducted of any in the United States.
The careful selection of your grain, the purity of the water, the slower and more cautious method of distillation, is what gives the NOBLE WHISKY its superior qualities, and has gained for it the reputation which it universally sustains throughout the United States.
Gratified that the 20 years devoted to the distillation of the CYRUS NOBLE WHISKY has been attended with such happy ... I trust I may be spared to continue ... in its interest, and that of its many ... and consumers.

[illegible] remembrance rushed over him [illegible] of that sad, momentous [illegible] And this was the [illegible] girl whose blue eyes and [illegible] had haunted him for a [illegible] he had seen and pitied her in her [illegible] that January night a year agone.

[illegible] Dr. Redmond smiled.

"[illegible] good he is! He [illegible] like a friend I [illegible] always known."

[illegible] Redmond's brown eyes watched the [illegible] graceful figure pass the window.

"[illegible] child; in six months she will not [illegible] above a whisper for all future time! I [illegible] what she will do?"

Gradually the acquaintance, at first purely [illegible], ripened into peaceful friendship; [illegible] into warmer interest, until on the day [illegible] Bertha heard her fate from Dr. Redmond's kind, pitiful lips, they had grown to be [illegible] near to each other.

"This huskiness permanent! never speak [illegible] O, Dr. Redmond, don't tell me that!" she wailed forth her complaint so piteously, [illegible] with blanching cheeks and quivering lips.

"You know that I have done all that lies in human power to do, Bertha. You know it hurts me to see you take it so to heart, child, and yet I am not sorry."

He was looking eagerly at her.

"Not sorry! Not sorry that I am worse than useless until I can learn another way of [illegible] my bread! O, Dr. Redmond, I [illegible] thought—"

He had both her rebellious hands in his [illegible], and was half smiling in her tearful face.

"You thought what, Bertha? I know you [illegible] have thought what I have—what I am [illegible] now—what a darling little wife you [illegible] be for me! You will be, won't [illegible] dear?"

[illegible] was quiet, but so intense that [illegible] startled her. His wife—she, his wife! The rapturous tears welled to her eyes.

"Oh, Dr. Redmond!"

"Never but Guy in the future, Bertha? Kiss me, darling, and tell me you do not regret giving up your school to teach me how to be a better man! Little Bertha, I will make you very happy, if I may. May I?"

And, her breath almost hushed with ecstacy, the lonely, brave little girl, accepted. The heaven of happiness she had and dreamed of, she had never dared think would be her own!

* * * * * * * * *

"You will go down to dinner, then, to-day, dear? If you knew how much better you were looking, and how Bertie and Ora are clamboring for you."

Dr. Redmond caressed the delicate cheek of his wife as she leaned against the lined cushions of the easy-chair—pretty, fair as five years ago, when she married him.

"I wonder whether the children or papa is most anxious I should go down? Confess, now, Guy, you begin to be jealous of this little stranger's monopoly of my time."

She touched the pink palm of a wee baby lying cradled in a low-canopied crib at her side, and spoke in a low, hushed whisper, that had grown to be very sweet and melodious to her husband's ears—that other people thought a dreadful affliction, while they wondered how well Mrs. Redmond bore it.

The doctor leaned over and kissed his boy, then the mother.

"I do not think even young Guy Agincourt could make me jealous, dear, but I do want you down stairs to-day. Among other reasons, it is time you made the acquaintance of the children's nursery maid, who came the day baby did. I haven't seen her once, and I am sure if it had not been for cousin Annie's attention, Mrs. Greyson—that's her name—would have been miserably lonesome."

"Annie is always good, and I'll go down, dear, if you think it best, and make the poor woman comfortable, although I really think you ought to have seen her."

Dr. Redmond shrugged his broad, fine shoulders.

"If you knew how busy I've been, and how miserably hidden the lady keeps herself, you'd not think so. Then, Bertha, we'll see you at 2—the smart, pretty housemother as usual!"

It was 1 when Mrs. Redmond went down stairs, the very idol of a dainty, high-bred lady, in her elegant invalid costume, and surrounded on every side by all the luxuries money or taste could provide.

Bertie and Ora, her little daughters, came flying to meet her as she entered the nursery, on a visit preparatory to dinner.

A tall, plainly-[illegible] woman arose to check their exuberant delight.

"Children, don't good heavens! are you Mrs. Redmond?"

Bertha smiled and bowed. "I am Mrs. Redmond, Mrs. Greyson. If you know me you have the advantage, although—although"—she paused, and the color flew to her pale cheeks—"It cannot possibly be that you are Miss St. Symington?"

Yes, Junanita St. Symington, who drove you out of her mother's parlor because you were nobody but a nursery governess! Mrs. Redmond, this—"

She almost gasped the words, in her painful surprise and bitter remembrance.

Bertha laid her fair, white hand on the plain sleeve of the woman.

"Try to forget whatever happened unpleasant. Remember that this is truly your home, Mrs. Greyson, where you will be received and treated as an equal by myself, husband and [illegible]. And now, are you ready for dinner? the bell will ring very soon."

So, like coals of fire, was Bertha's mercy—her sweet, tender womanliness on Juanita St. Symington's hand, while among the bitterest drops in Mrs. Greyson's cup is the belief that by her own hand she made all the happiness of Mrs. Redmond's life—a happiness she had often hoped for for herself, but that, with many other good things, had been denied her since the day when Fate took Fortune in hand and banished her from the home where Bertha Agincourt's destiny began to shape its [illegible].

Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 15.—A leading grain circular says the markets of the United Kingdom quote some further improvement in values. The condition of present deliveries has more or less deteriorated owing to the recent excess of moisture, and the demand for foreign wheat is increasing proportionately. The amount of wheat on passage from abroad is 360,000 quarters smaller than at the corresponding period in 1865. The present advices don't indicate any extension of shipments for some time to come. To-day's market experienced a good, healthy, [illegible] demand for both red and white wheat, at an advance of fully a penny over [illegible] prices. Flour was also active at an improvement of six pence per sack. Corn was again three pence dearer, and taken to a fair extent at that improvement.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES, DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.
